CUMMINS INTAKE MANIFOLD

The new BladeRunner intake manifold for the '94-'98 Dodge Ram Cummins for the L6-5.9L features MDV (Multiple Directional Vane) technology, which smoothes out and directs the intake charge for minimum pressure loss, providing increased performance and airflow. The BladeRunner intake also includes 2½-inch NPT ports on the backside, which provides easy and clean gauge installation, and is constructed of A356-T6 aluminum construction with stainless steel hardware for easy installation. INFORMATION: aFe Products, 951.493.7100, www.aFepower.com

WHEEL STOPPER

The off-road wheel chock is designed for use with a Hi-Lift Jack in vehicle recovery. The chock can also be used in emergencies as a traction aid in snow, mud, and sand. It's strong and lightweight and made in the USA, and the compact 9¼x6¼x1½-inch chock is easy to store. It features dirt and tire gripping surfaces, and tent stakes holes are provided for additional stability. INFORMATION: Off Road Trail Tools, 520.579.2079, www.offroadtrailtools.com

PRERUNNER BUMPER

Addictive Desert Designs has released a bolt-on prerunner bumper. The bumper fits '03-'08 Dodge 2500 and 3500 HD two- and four-wheel-drive trucks. The bumper flows with the grille, giving it cool looks and durability with its 0.120-inch wall tubing strength. It is finished with a glossy black powdercoat and ½-inch aluminum skidplate. INFORMATION: Addictive Desert Designs, 480.671.0820, www.addictivedesertdesigns.com
