Heater Delete Plug

CFM+ Air Intake Heater Delete

Owners of 7.3L Power Strokes and newer have probably noticed the air intake heater sticking out of the manifold. The thing is, the heater can block up to 20 percent of the air path, as well as create turbulence. That's what prompted CFM+ to create a heater delete kit that eliminates the problem area. The plug also comes pre-tapped with a 1/8-inch NPT port for easy boost gauge connection right at the intake manifold. For more information, call (760) 598-2478 or visit www.cfmplus.com.

Orange County Diesel T-shirts

Looking good doesn't usually go along with the spirit of giving, but the authentic Orange County Diesel T-shirts are an exception. Made from 100-percent cotton and available in size Small all the way up to XXL, 10 percent of the T-shirt purchases are donated to the Children's Cancer Research Fund. Dr. Performance Dodge Kleen Fuel System

Your warranty doesn't cover contaminated fuel. With the Kleen Fuel Filtration System from Dr. Performance, there are no more worries about where you fill up. This 2-stage water separator is what you can call "cheap insurance," as it is 80-percent more efficient than the factory system, according to Dr. Performance. The 3/8-inch Kleen Filtration System fits Dodge 5.9L, 6.7L, and includes all fittings, filters, hardware and more. For more information, call (888) 204-0548 or visit www.drperformance.com.

aFe LMM Tube

Just released by advanced FLOW engineering (aFe) for the 2009 LMM Duramax is an upgraded intercooler tube. The intercooler tube is constructed out of huge, mandrel bent 3-inch 409 stainless steel and is powdercoated for maximum cooling efficiency. Two heavy-duty five-ply reinforced couplings give this upgrade the much-needed strength to easily withstand high boost pressures and maintain integrity. All hardware including constant tension T-bolt clamps is supplied for an easy installation. In recent testing, the aFe tube out-flowed the factory intercooler tube by 67 percent, and produced a stunning 11 max hp and 27 max lb-ft of torque increase.
