① AFE STAGE 2 POLISHED COLD AIR INTAKE FOR THE 2009 FORD F-150 5.4L

Advanced Flow Engineering (aFe), an industry leader in performance cold air intakes, filters and exhaust systems, is pleased to announce the release of its new Stage 2 polished cold air intake for the 2009 Ford F-150, Expedition and Navigator with the 5.4L V-8 (P/N 54-11623 and 51-11623). aFe stage 2 air intake systems utilize specially designed 3 1/2-inch 409 polished clear anodized stainless steel intake tube that is designed to maximize air velocity and improve horsepower, torque, throttle response, and MPG. The durable, one-piece 18-gauge powder-coated heat shield blocks out engine heat and draws cold air from the existing lower air box.

This system also includes aFe's Silver Bullet throttle body spacer, which helps maximize fuel/air mixture for increased performance and throttle response. In recent testing, P/N 54-11623 out flowed the factory intake by 35 percent and produced an astonishing 18 HP and 36 ft.-lbs. of torque. (Tested with MACH Force exhaust, P/N 49-43015).

② BRAKE PERFORMANCE BRAKE ROTORS FACTORY DIRECT

Brake Performance brake rotors are available for all auto, truck and SUVs from 1937-2009, and they are available in three styles: slotted and cross drilled, slotted and dimple drilled, or performance slotted.

Their performance rotors feature full sweep scraper slots that extend off the outer diameter of the rotor, which produces superior stopping, deglazes the brake pads, disperses dust away from wheels, and offers better braking in wet weather.

All of Brake Performance's performance rotors are zinc-plated in black or silver for great looks and protection against rusting. Zinc plating remains in slots and holes even after break-in.

The rotors are manufactured from premium quality solid steel, and they meet TUV, QS and ISO standards. Guaranteed OEM fit with no modification. machine balanced, X-ray inspected, turned and balanced, tested on state-of-the-art computerized equipment and CNC custom-machined in the USA.
